

I object to Sinclair requiring their stations to air "Stolen Honor" - an obviously one-sided smear piece weeks before the presidential election. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

This is outrageous. The FCC needs to do something to protect ordinary people from this obvious abuse of power and influence.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
